Impact of COVID 19 on Informal Workers

India's economy runs on the backbone of working peoples. The informal sector workers constitute 93% of the workforce and the backbone of the Indian economy. Workers in the unorganised sector are subject to deplorable working conditions, underpayment or non-payment of wages and are subjected to several violations of fundamental rights including but not limited to physical, verbal and sexual harassment.

The COVID-19 crisis dramatically impacted informal workers' ability to work and earn. On March 24, with just four hours' notice, India went into a 21-day lockdown. The abrupt lockdown brought the crowded and bustling city to a halt, causing severe financial and emotional stress for informal workers. The immediate crisis for informal workers was more a result of the draconian closure than the pandemic, as workers grappled with a total loss of livelihood and the resulting hunger, insecurity and vulnerability that followed. Lockdown restrictions lead to loss of livelihood in this period. Markets were closed and supply chain disruptions as well as health concerns as significant barriers.

The lockdown resulted in a sudden, absolute drop in work and income for informal workers. While easing of lockdown restrictions allowed for the gradual resumption of economic activity, informal workers remain in crisis, with reductions in earnings, increased debt, a rise in care responsibilities and little or no access to long-term support, making recovery slow and difficult.

COVID vaccination by Nidan

The precarious nature of their work exposes informal workers to unsafe work conditions that increase their risk of exposure to COVID-19. If infected, they do not have recourse to paid leave, social protection or health benefits that are available to workers in formal employment. Yet, they continued to work as they cannot afford wage loss nor are they were able to work from home. The COVID-19 vaccine provided critical protection and reduced the risk of mortality. And yet, informal workers were not getting vaccinated due to multiple barriers in the existing vaccination framework. Informal workers lacked information regarding the importance of vaccination and many informal workers were unable to get registered for the same. Various Vaccination Camps were also recognized.

Nidan also wrote letter to the Chief Ministers, demanding for COVID vaccination and immediate help to the garbage / garbage pickers. Also, wrote to District Magistrate, Patna urging the district for supporting in the awareness and other relief works in the pandemic.

1. Entrepreneurship Development Project

Nidan has been working since two years on entrepreneurship development in Delhi. The government of India has taken major steps in the form of initiatives and schemes to promote entrepreneurship in rural and urban areas. But the areas which needed attention was the adequate documents and registrations to avail the respective government scheme. This onus was taken by Nidan to educate and train them so that in the near future they will help themselves and other related associates in running their business. Nidan took the initiative and onus to create entrepreneurs in the low community areas. The program comprises of the two day training program, followed by the MSME Udyog Registration and providing hand holding for availing the MUDRA Loan Facility. We have EDP Centre “SUGAM UDYAMI KENDRA” in Madanpur Khadar which facilitates registrations and documentations for the aspiring entrepreneurs.

There was a change in the Training Module. A new “10 pointer” agenda was made so to ensure the holistic development of the micro entrepreneurs in the best way possible. This 10 pointer agenda focused in a step by step development of micro entrepreneur with its end goal to make them get financial entitlement either through banks or cooperative societies. Four hundred safai sathis (waste pickers) collect plastic waste from 10 wards of Patna, Bihar. The collected plastic waste is then segregated in Material Recovery Centres i.e. Swachhta Kendra. The segregated plastic is then processed and recycled with the help of different equipment and machineries like phatka machine, dry waste sorter, shredding and bailing machines etc. Safai Sathis are institutionalized within respective governance mechanisms and attain improved social conditions. Safai Sathis are provided with the safety kits i.e. head cap, hard leg shoes, dress, mask and hand gloves. They are also linked with Pradhan Mantri Suraksha Bima Yojana and bank. Nidan developed a revenue model based approach through the Swachhta Kendra.
